Install MATLAB R2018a. Download from . When you use MATLAB, it seems as though your background color has been changed. This problem shows up when the Start Theme for MATLAB has been changed. Mathworks Matlab R2018a [Downloads]. Blue Collar, 3 Years Old, White Cat. How do you delete all the elements in a subarray of an array? I am trying to perform some sorting operations on an array of images and I need to split each array into 10 smaller arrays, and then sort each of them. Any suggestions? In this section of a course on time-series forecasting you learn how to plot time-series data. When you work with data you often need to specify what units you are using. The units for measurement are time and frequency in frequency response analysis; this can be the relation between input and output. Depending on the frequency domain information you want to extract the units can be chosen. In a sigmoidal response, the input is a voltage, the output is a current and the time is in seconds. You can use a two-input sigmoidal system and compare the response between the input voltages and or the output currents in the frequency domain. Here, you learn how to perform a sigmoidal analysis of a time-series signal. How to draw the frequency response and how to fit a model to an FFT. How to plot the sigmoidal response of the discrete-time system in the frequency domain. How to determine the numerical values of the frequency response. A Tutorial on Frequency Response Analysis I am not sure how you created this but that might be part of the solution. It seems like you created the right mathematical model using ResNet and then just performed an autoencoder on the model. Just an idea to investigate if you found a better way. This is not a direct answer to your question but something else you might find useful in the future. :) Is there a way to get an output signal of the VGG-16 network during the inference or to define the path to store the intermediate layer activations? You can use the callback function that is part of the caffe solver. For example: callback: "/path_to_trained_network/models/VGG_ILSVRC_16_layers_deploy.prototxt" "VGG_ILSVRC_16_1
