When I try to add an external source folder, it ends up just adding an extra new line to the top of the XML file. So every line gets an extra new line at the top, rather than added to the end of the file. I've attached a screenshot to show what I mean: I've tried looking around for a solution to this online and also tried looking for a solution to this issue in the help section of Android Studio. Nothing. Does anyone have a fix for this issue? Thanks in advance. A: It turns out that you need to change the "Project Structure" tool to "Action"
